CITY MATTERS.

MR. LORD'S LECTURE.—The course of Lectures before the Young Men's Association, was concluded with that delivered last evening, by Wm. H. Lord, Esq., on "Man, as a subject of Law." It was an eloquent and powerful vindication of the "Higher Law" of conscience and man's moral nature, as supreme above all social laws and human governments.

He commenced by stating that law is universal, all-pervading, all-embracing,—that it governs as well the minutest operations, as the sublimest phenomena of nature,—the pebble that rolls down the mountain side, and the world's moving through space,—the autumn leaf fluttering in the breeze, and the comet whirling madly through the heavens. It governs man's internal being—his mind—his thoughts—his motives. The Law of Conscience is above all other laws,—as of greater antiquity, higher authority,—has a more sacred and solemn sanction. Like that delivered to Moses on tables of stone, amidst the lightnings and tempests of Sinai, this is written on the legible finger of the Almighty on the fleshly tablets of the heart. Social laws are less binding, because less complete and universal. They govern man's outward acts—his thoughts, his purposes, his principles. As far as human laws are coincident and harmonious with this law of conscience, they are binding, and authoritative; when they contravene it, we should follow the dictates of the right. He would not advocate revolutions except in extreme cases, but the operations of laws unjust and oppressive should be thwarted by passive resistance.

We are aware that in so short a notice we can do nothing like justice to its just maxims and its correct elucidation of righteous principles,—much less to its elegant and vigorous style—fine illustrations, and impressive delivery. Mr. Lord is a ripe scholar, and has correct ideas of these things, and we only regret that there was not a fuller attendance to listen to his admirable lecture.

COMMON COUNCIL.—This body met last evening. But little business of general importance was transacted.

Numerous accounts and petitions were presented, and referred, and some allowed.

Ald. McGarry, from the school committee, offered the following report:

The Committee on Schools have had under consideration the communication of his excellency, the people's governor, in relation to sending Spring Street Bridge to the world's Fair in London. After mature deliberation we recommend that this board issue bonds to the amount of $10,000, payable in 10 years, bearing interest at 10 per cent, said bonds to be negotiated, and the proceeds to be applied to transport his Excellency, the People's Governor, and said Bridge to the World's Fair; and that the premium awarded be applied to the payment of the bonds and interest—the balance to be divided between the wives of the officers that fell in the battle of Kenosha. All of which is respectfully submitted.

Ald. Ludington moved that the report be sent back to the "gentleman" presenting it, and that he be required to make an apology to the Council, which was carried, and the apology if not offered, was at least implied.—So this contemptible attempt at burlesque fell to the ground.

G. E. H. Day on behalf of School Commissioners was permitted to address the Council in favor of a further issue of bonds to the Commissioners for the completion of the School Houses.

Council adjourned.

BACHELOR'S BALL.—The bachelors—Heaven have mercy on them—are to have a ball of their own, this evening. Poor fellows, one would think that after standing fire all day, and receiving as many shots as they no doubt will, that they would hardly wish to throw themselves right in the face of danger again. But they never will learn the better part of valor, till they are finally caught, shorn of all their bacheloric rights and privileges and firmly and deftly bound with the cord of matrimony, or—just as bad—promised to be the first opportunity. But for all this, we have no doubt it will be a splendid affair—the best of the season. It is to be at Gardiner's Hall.

TRADE AND COMMERCE.

DAILY FREE DEMOCRAT OFFICE,
Feb. 14, 1851.

Weather rather disagreeable to-day—muddy travelling, and little business doing.

Wheat remains nearly stationary. Receipts are tolerable good. Good winter wheat has brought as high as $1.00, and so along down, according to quality.

Wheat from $2 to $2.75.

Corn $1.00, (late 25c), Barley 60c.

Pork.—The packing season is about over. Small receipts, which are all bought up for retailing, at $14 4c.

Navigation Opening.—The Ward line of Steamers are announced to commence their regular trips to-morrow, the 16th, and weather permitting—which they will according to present appearances. This line is to have several additional boats the coming season. The St. Louis is to run between New Bedford and Chicago exclusively. The new steamer Arctic is to run directly between New Buffalo and this city. The Pacific and San Ward will run the usual route between New Buffalo, Chicago, and Milwaukee, stopping at all the intermediate ports. The Champion and Detroit will ply between here and Milwaukee, and Grand Haven.

Great preparations are making on the lower lake for an early resumption of navigation.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON, FEB. 14.

MADISON CORRESPONDENCE.

February 11.

The Senate spent the forenoon in considering a bill reported by the committee on corporations, repealing a portion of the Wisconsin Bridge Company charter, at Sauk Prairie. The subject induced considerable debate, in which several of the honorable Senators exhibited a strong feeling of distrust in each others veracity. The Senator from Sauk, in particular, used language disrespectful to the committee, accusing them of being "log-rollers," and made, as the Wisconsin man would say, "allusions to a probability," that the committee had acted in bad faith in the matter. The result of the discussion was, in effect, a rejection of the report of the committee, and a confirmation of the charge made by the honorable Senator from Sauk. This afternoon, the committee formally, through Mr. Hyer, resigned their office, and thus threw back upon the Senate a charge of disrespect and ungovernable conduct. The Senate considered upon the matter for a time, and concluded that the best way to quiet the committee, was to "own up," as to the "words spoken in the heat of debate," but held to the vote, thereby "compromising" a question purely of dignity, and the committee were requested to remain in the full possession of their honors and powers. It is due to the President of the Senate, to state here, that he was not at the time in the chair,—had been, the disrespectful words spoken by the Sauk Senator would not have passed unrebuked. The balance of the afternoon has been spent in considering and passing bills, mostly local in their nature; and in passing several small appropriation bills,—among the latter was one for the Free Democrat, cut down, however, about one-half from the amount originally reported by the committee. There is something curious in the action of the Legislature in relation to appropriations. Some bills are voted without inquiry, while others, having the name of an individual prefixed not favorably regarded, are rigidly inquired into, and great concern expressed by gentlemen lest the State should be swindled.

[The amount cut down was for publishing the general election notice, and Thanksgiving Proclamation, which were certified to by the Secretary of State as correct, and reported favorably by the Committee. We presented this bill because some of the party papers we knew had formerly done so and been paid for it, as other papers have done this year. We agree with the Sentinel that these general notices should be published in all the papers and be paid for by the State as much as any legal notices. But if they serve the press alike, we shall not complain. If our name has stopped a leak in the Treasury, and given Senator Wright and others an opportunity to display their patriotism we have done the State some service.—Ed. Free Dem.]

In the Assembly, the bill abolishing capital punishment has been the order of the day.—The subject has been ably discussed, and as the debate will be published, I will not venture upon a synopsis of the arguments in the discussion. At the close of the session this afternoon, the bill was defeated by a vote of 19 to 40. I cannot agree with the House in its decision, and am confidently of the opinion that another year will advance the age to a point where reason and humanity will find other protection for society than the gallows. To-morrow, the Assembly will further consider the Land Limitation bill, and, I think, pass it. Several gentlemen are preparing for the question, and I expect to hear it ably discussed.

To-morrow, the Board of Commissioners, and State Land Officers are to be elected.—There is no lack of candidates, and at every corner they may be seen "laying in wait" for members. Whoever the elected may be, it is to be hoped that they will not have the dread of cold water so strongly manifested by the old board.

An adjournment is talked of, and from present indications, the Legislature will rise about the 10th of March, should the members not conclude to hold over. I shall be in their midst for several days, and should anything of interest occur, you will hear from me.

CONFUCIUS.

EITHER WAY.—On the matter to lay on the table a proposition to inquire into the expediency of paying the Spanish claimants for Amistad negroes, whom they kidnapped contrary to Spanish law and the law of nations, Senator Walter voted yea, and Senator Dodge voted nay. We suppose this is the first fruit of the Resolution of our Legislature expressing their entire willingness to have our Senators vote on opposite sides of the Slave question.

RAYMOND PLANK ROAD.—The books are open for subscription to the stock of this road.

Standard of Value.

A farmer—one of our subscribers—in opposing the present Interest law, says, that Wisconsin has destroyed her standard of currency, and that to be consistent, we should advocate the repeal of the present standard of weights and measures. Our correspondent erroneously assumes that a dollar is more or less than 100 cents, according as the rate of interest is high or low, and that law can alter its intrinsic value. We have before stated that the value of money, like the value of agricultural products, must be determined by the law of supply and demand—by its scarcity or abundance, and that this cannot be determined by statute. A law limiting the rate of interest to three per cent. might compel conscientious capitalists to withdraw their money from the State, but unscrupulous ones would take their place, and would charge enough interest, in addition to the present rates, to cover the increased risk. We are opposed to all usury laws, because we think the principle wrong, but we are not particularly anxious about the question, and do not feel called upon to quarrel about it with any body. We have made up our mind to take just what the Legislature gives us, and be thankful "that it is not any worse with us than it is."

RIGHT ABOUT, FACE.—Yesterday, the Sentinel gave notice of a general meeting of the citizens to express their views on the Land Limitation bill, now pending before the Legislature; on the strength of which we recommended all Land Reformers to attend, and take part in the meeting.

This morning the Sentinel sings a different song, thus:

"ANTI-LAND LIMITATION MEETING.—Saturday evening is the time, and Gardiner's Hall the place, for the meeting of those of our citizens opposed to Wilson's agrarian law. It promises to be a rowser."

Yesterday, it was to be "a meeting to express the sense of our Merchants, Mechanics, business men and others," on this law,—a meeting of friends and foes of the law. But our notice has compelled the friends of Land Monopoly to show their hand, and now the Sentinel comes out and says, it is only a "meeting of those of our citizens opposed to" Land Limitation.

And to show the character of some of the movers in this matter, we will state, that the call for this meeting has been circulated among the Germans who cannot read English, and they have been induced to sign it, under the false plea, that it is a petition for the repeal of the Liquor Law! A meeting got up under such false pretences, must have great weight with our Legislature at Madison.

Perhaps the friends of this law may find a way to express their views.

District Attorney Williams denies, in toto, the charge of Mr. Richardson, that he declared the Fugitive Slave Law unconstitutional.

THE REASON.—Geo. H. Paine writes to the Boston Transcript, that the reason his brother has not made public the whole secret of his gas light is the difficulty he has experienced in preventing explosions, nine having occurred in as many months. The great difficulty is found in governing the electric currents in their accumulations and discharges on the, or at the electrodes,—the continuous varying electrical state of the atmosphere, baffling all mechanical skill that has yet been brought to bear on the discovery. Elizer Wright feels certain that this obstacle will be overcome.

The Buffalo Journal of Commerce fears Col. Benton will be for the remainder of the session a dangerous man—may provoke a personal collision, but "pledges that" Foote, Clemens, Borland, Soule and Jefferson Davis will meet him in any way he chooses."

Gov. Anthony, of Rhode Island, has declined positively a re-nomination which was urged upon him. His letter of declination was written after the election of James, Democrat, to the U. S. Senate. The breach widens.

DEDICATION.—The First Congregational Church at Racine was dedicated on Wednesday evening.

"CHANGE."—Spanish quarters are now taken at the Post Office for twenty five cents, and glad to get them at that.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.

Henry Heldworthe, aged 19 years, very respectably connected in England, was arrested yesterday charged with having committed heavy forgeries in Deeds in the shape of bills of exchange which were cashed in London. He then fled to this country from Liverpool in company with an old offender. $3,000 in gold coin were found in his possession at the time of his arrest.

On the twenty-fifth anniversary of the succession of the Emperor Nicholas to the throne—a day usually considered fatal to the Russian monarchs—his confidence and calmness were so great, that he ventured about without an escort, and attended only by his staff who were almost immediately separated from him by the throng.

Mrs. Edgerton, Willow street, Springfield, Mass. while laboring under temporary derangement, hung herself Sunday afternoon, during the absence of her family.

THE BOOK OF CHRONICLES.

CHAPTER IV.

1. And about this time it was the turn of John, the priest, to instruct them. And he went into the synagogue, and spake unto them, concerning witchcraft, and necromancy, and trance, and spiritual rappings.

2. And he said unto the young men: The twelve are necromancers, and they have employed their arts to make the rappings by tricks and by frauds; and they have befooled the house of Levi, and have deceived and bewitched the people, saying unto them, that they be spirits that rap; and many other things which he read and believed of the writing which William, the scribe, wrote unto the people, after his vision.

3. And he said: What be spirits? they be like air, and moonbeams, and shadows—they have neither form, nor substance; then how can they rap? They cannot and never did, neither did they ever appear unto men, or speak unto them, or in any way manifest themselves unto them;

4. Neither have they any power over the things of this world, to move them, or to make noises, neither is there any account in the Scriptures, of spirits appearing unto men.

5. As for Saul, he saw nor heard no spirit, but was deceived by an artful woman.

6. And he said, moreover, as for trance, it is all either deception, or it is the work of Satan, and no men have regarded it, but such as be of weak minds.

7. And he said that trance was, seventy years ago, examined by a wise council, (one of our fathers, even Benjamin, being one of them,) who condemned it, and exposed its imposition, and it slept in oblivion from that time till ten years ago, when it was again brought forth by wandering teachers.

8. And William, the scribe, wrote an account of what was said by John, in his discourse, and much that was not said, and how John declared that Samuel was the father of Saul; and he praised it greatly, and sent it to all the people.

9. And the people said unto the twelve: John, the priest, hath traduced you, and said that ye practice necromancy.

10. Now if this be true, then be silent, and repent of your evil deeds; but if it be not true, and ye be slandered, then should ye speak to the people, and declare unto them the truth respecting this charge of the priest; for peradventure, some will believe it.

11. And moreover, if this be not necromancy, the people ought to know it; and they wish also to know more of trance, and of spirits, which John the priest teacheth are but shadows.

12. And behold, the Lord laid his hand upon another priest, who was appointed to speak next unto the young men, and he was sick, and could not go up to the synagogue and teach them.

13. And the young men said unto James, the physician, who was one of the twelve: The priest who was next to teach us is sick: go then up to the synagogue and speak unto us of witchcraft, and trance, and spiritual rappings.

14. And if John, the priest, hath traduced thee, and the twelve with thee, then defend thyself, and them, and tell us what thou knowest of these things.

15. And he said unto them: I will go up and speak unto you, of these things; (Howbeit, one of the rulers of the young men, said, I will not hear him speak of these things; for they be humbugs; but the others heeded him not.)

16. And James, the physician, wrote to John, the priest, saying: I pray thee let me have thy discourse to the young men, that I may read it, and know certainly, what thou hast said on witchcraft, and trance, and spiritual rappings, and also of the twelve, and of Levi;

17. To the intent that I may speak of these things that concern us, wherein thou mayest have been misinformed.

18. But John said unto James: I cannot let thee have it. If thou wilt defend witchcraft, then defend it; but let me alone.

19. And when the time came, James, the physician, went up to the synagogue, and spake unto the young men; and many of the priests, and scribes, and doctors of the law, and physicians, and a great crowd of the common people, gathered together to hear him; (Howbeit, John the priest, did not go up, and but few of his synagogue, nor William, the scribe.)

20. And James showed the people that the twelve were not necromancers, and that they knew nothing more of the matter than others, and that the thing had been many months in the family of Levi, before the twelve knew thereof.

Governor Lowe has appointed Robert J. Burt, Attorney-General of Maryland.

Phillip Garrett, while crossing the Columbia Railroad, 10 miles this side of Westchester, was run over by a train, his horses killed, carriage crushed, his skull fractured, so that he probably will die—one of his children had a shoulder dislocated, the other escaped unhurt. He was crossing at a curve and did not see the train.

Richardson, convicted of the murder of Miss Sharpless, was this morning sentenced to be hung. He killed her to obtain her watch.

The New York Tribune recommends passengers from the West to New York to take the Erie Railroad, as they can get a fair night's sleep at Geneva, reach New York several hours sooner, and save $3.80 fare.

LINES

Taken from the margin of a hymn book at Church.

I look in vain—he does not come,
Dear, dear—what shall I do?
I cannot listen as I ought;
Unhappily he left me too!
He might have come as well as not!
What plagues these fellows are!
I'll bet he's fast asleep at home,
Or smoking a cigar!

BLISS' COMPOUND
Cod Liver Oil Candy.

The Alchemists of old sought to transmute every thing they touched into gold, but they were unsuccessful. Mr. Bliss has succeeded better than the Alchemists, in discovering a remedy to which disease is transmuted into health, and this remedy is his Cod Liver Oil Candy, which is the remedy of the age—having proved of vast service in all cases where it has been used, for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Influenzas, and all affections of the throat and chest. To the astonishment of any one who ever took a drop of Cod Liver Oil, the Candy is perfectly palatable. But our friends must beware of counterfeits.

N. B. Be particular and enquire for "Bliss' Compound Cod Liver Oil Candy." Examine the wrapper and observe the fac-simile of the signature of the proprietor, without which none can be genuine. Prepared only by B. K. Bliss, Druggist, Springfield, Mass., sole proprietor. For sale by all the principal Druggists in the Union.

JUST DISCOVERED!

THE MILWAUKEE KNOCKINGS have removed

on Main street, at the sign of the RED BALLOON, and the way they knock the Pins down, is a caution to Spirits generally. They can knock twelve times in succession, any time of day, and not be troubled with any other communication. Such a knocking as they have there would astonish any one that is unacquainted with them.

The young and old,
Can knock and roll,
And each one shilling pay;
Such healthful exercise
We need to have each day;
We each have got our spirits,
And each has got his merits,
Good cheer we love to cherish,
So knock and roll away.

The Daily Democrat.

NEW YORK CORRESPONDENCE.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4, 1851.

The Canal Commissioners report an income of about two million dollars this year from tolls, &c., and a balance of upwards of a million dollars on hand; but the Auditor fears there will be a considerable reduction in the income from the competition recently commenced by the Erie Rail Road, connecting the Lakes with Boston, and the prospective competition by the Erie Rail Road which will be in full blast at the opening of navigation. To all this disadvantage, the Auditor adds the immediate execution of the proposed enlargement of the State Canal, at a cost of several million dollars.

The Vermont Central Rail Road is diverting from New York already, though so recently in operation, a considerable portion of the Canal trade to our small little sister city, Boston. We are so much engrossed in our own whirl, that we rarely stop to take up the matter of our affairs around us. The Vermont, having more time to suck their brains with the current of events, and look out on the horizon and prospects of business, are quicker than we to see where and how a public want may be supplied, and by land or by creek, they manage to put their boats into operation, however large may be the capital required. But they would not do it if it were not for New York. No; we are not to be outdone in emulation to excel us in commercial energy and public enterprise—on our side, the race is an unequal one, for certain advantages circumstances have given New York the fabulous seven-league boots, and she goes ahead with giant strides. She must always be to the United States, what London is to Great Britain. Ten years ago, the population of New York was only double that of Boston; now, New York City numbers 250,000, while Boston counts less than 100,000. Our correspondent is evidently wrong. The population of New York in 1841, was more than double that of Boston now. [Ed.] The growth of New York has been tremendous, yet silent. If a big block of buildings go up in Boston, the sound of the Mason's trowels are heard at a great distance; at the same time a whole square might be constructing here, and no noise made about it. Perhaps it is because the workmen here, (using so little mortar,) find little use for the trowel. Like the fallen block in 21st street.

So much have the streets extended, that thousands of clerks and working men live miles away from their places of business.—Twelfth street, for instance, is regarded as very convenient to "down town," for there are 50 thickly settled parallel streets beyond it, but 12th street is two miles from Wall st.

It is said that Tompkins, the man who so astonished the Broker's Board, by obtaining $77,000 worth of stocks, and appropriating the cash proceeds of the same before he had paid for them himself, is still in the city, and will be let down easy upon his paying 50 cents on the dollar. So we go! Few men are willing to sacrifice a debt for the sake of enforcing justice upon a delinquent.

Steamer Canada, from Liverpool, yesterday, brought no news of the unfortunate Steam Ship Atlantic, which is now 25 days beyond her time. Hope is entertained that the next Steamer—the Africa—will bring word of her having put into some port on the Irish coast, on account of derangement in her machinery.

Mr. Mills, the enterprising builder of Steamers Washington, Hermann, Tennessee, &c., has now nearly completed at Morgan's Works, a splendid Steam Ship, which he calls the "Brother Jonathan." He challenges England, or any other power, foreign or domestic, to produce its equal for speed.

A British ship-builder has been vaunting loudly, and even arrogantly, in the leading English papers, of his ability to construct a Steamer, which shall, to use his own phrase, "whip" any thing the Yankees can produce, and he calls upon all true Britons to sustain the reputation of their country as "Queen of the Sea," by contributing funds wherewith he may be enabled to build such a ship. In reply to this British boast, the American, Mills, very quietly went to work and built the magnificent Steamer, "Brother Jonathan," now nearly finished, and a model of which may be seen in a few days, at the office of Stimson & Co's. New Orleans and Mobile Express, 19, Wall street.

The Abolitionists instituted proceedings yesterday, against C. M. Hall, Esq., the U. S. Commissioner, who issued the warrant for the arrest of the fugitive, Henry Long.

There is plenty of money here; more, indeed, than the wants of trade require, business being comparatively still. Most of the new Georgia Rail Roads are in the market. Georgia appears to be more deeply engaged in Rail Road building just now, than any other State. I wish that Alabama would wake up, in this respect. We are very much in want of an unbroken route from Charleston to Mobile. The new Mayor is putting the City to its purgation, and giving many nuisances a quietus.

VARIETY.

Mr. Rees, a well-known street preacher in Cincinnati, was accosted, by a would-be wag, the other day, and questioned as follows:—"Do you believe what the Bible says about the prodigal son and the fatted calf?" "Certainly I do." "Well, can you tell me whether the calf that was killed was a male or female calf?" "Yes, it was a female calf."

"How do you know that?" "Because," said Mr. R., looking the chap in the face, "I see the male is alive now."

The thief who robbed the Treasurer's office of Branch county, was convicted at Coldwater last Saturday.—Mich. Telegraph.

He must be a great land robber to rob the Treasurer's office of a whole county! It can't be done in this State, if Mr. Wilson's Land bill passes.

Last Sunday, a little boy attending Sunday school, was asked "what became of Judas Iscariot?" "Killed in the revolutionary war," said the boy quickly.

We consider every man who evinces a proper regard for the rights and feelings of others, a gentleman.

Some are very liberal, even to profuseness, when they can be so at the expense of others.

The Philadelphia Sun says: "Mrs. Mosso, as a general actress has but one rival in our country—Miss Alexina Fisher."

Outdoing the Jews.—The following incident from the Knickerbocker Magazine shows how one man got "ahead of the Jews":

A gentleman owned four lots adjoining a Jewish burying-ground in the upper part of the city. The owners of the cemetery wanted to purchase these lots, but as the price offered was no equivalent for their value, he refused to accept it. At last the Jew trustees, but upon what they considered a master stroke of policy, and on meeting Mr. V. a few days afterwards, said: "Sir we think you will not get any body now to live on your property up there. We have bought lots on the other side, and behind it, and it is Jew's burying ground all around it." "Very Well," was the reply of Mr. V. "I shall begin to build to-morrow." "Build!" echoed the trustees, taken aback by the cool manner in which this was said, "why now, with a cunning smile, 'what can you put up there, with a Jew's burying-ground all around it?' "At a surgeon's hall," said Mr. V. "You have made my property the most eligible in the city. Good morning!" The reader may imagine that Mr. V. received his own price for the lots, which were speedily converted into a Golgotha, and the principal trustee now being buried in the midst of them, with a white marble monument protruding out of his bosom, large enough to make a resurrectionist man commit suicide.

A literary gent, one night was wending zig-zaggingly homeward, sounding the depths of cellarways and rubbing the point of lamp-poets, having withal a monstrous turkey in his hat: when he fell in with a marshall's man, whose brass star conspicuously shone upon the bosom of the policeman. Striking an attitude the literateur cried out:—"Stars wherefore do ye shine?" and the star-bearer replied to the star-gazer:—"To light thy path to the tomb!" and arm in arm the twain wended their way toward the Station House.

Every true woman should assert her right to pecuniary independence—to a position secured independent of the affections and these holiest aspirations of her nature should be a free will offering, no more to be fostered in marriage than in any other way. She should shudder at the bare thought of such desecration. Before the great era of her life, when these shall become a well spring of happiness to her, she should have been taught to look upon herself as filling a distinctive position in society, secured by her talents or industry; or if a competence has been awarded by inheritance, it should be used with that forethought and discretion which belongs to her construction of mind in a higher degree than in the other sex.

Sparking a Girl.—Now I've courted so darn many gals in my life, an' perhaps more. The first gal that I ever went to see was Nancy Hewitt. Sweet little! she was a scrounger! There was something 'scrumptious' bout the gal that made me love her more'n I could pick up ships for a week. Many an many's the time I've took that gal to meetin'! All the other fellows would look to us as though they'd like to mix in; but want to be did.

Were girls from childhood up educated not in reference to marriage, but in reference to the entire unfolding of a creation which, in its healthiest and most harmonious manifestation would take place under circumstances of true dignity, and not as, now under a necessity, a mistaken opinion that they must take place, that a woman is nothing without them. Marriage would have then a holy significance—a solemn and sweet import, a sanctity of relation that could no more be violated than the great and immutable laws that hold the eternal spheres in their joyous and never failing harmony.

The Union Sweet Again!—Wilbraham has spoken! At a meeting of citizens of that town, without distinction of party, Rev. Geo. M. Steele made a prayer and Alexander C. Felton made a speech showing the duty of all good citizens to catch niggers. Whereupon the citizens resolved that they also would pray and catch niggers.—Lowell American.

Love and Gain.—The Manchester Democrat has lost 20 subscribers, and gained more than $30, by the Atwood operation, since he was thrown overboard. We wish somebody would throw us overboard at that rate.—Nashua Tel.

GREAT ARRIVAL OF WINTER GOODS!

191 East Water st., Martin's New Block.

EXTRAORDINARY AND DAILY INCREASING ATTRACTIONS AT CAMERON'S NEW-YORK STORE.

Established in Milwaukee in May, 1849, in connection with one of the most extensive Importing Houses in New York city, for the purpose of establishing a large and permanent business, on the Cash system.

The proprietors of this already well known and popular establishment take this way of informing numerous patrons, in town and country, that they have made such arrangements to meet the exigencies of their rapidly increasing business, as will enable them to offer still greater inducements to purchasers. Their Fall and Winter stock is beyond comparison the most extensive and varied.

In the Western Country, embracing every article usually found in first class houses in the Atlantic cities.

To those who have already dealt with them, they deem it unnecessary to allude to their ability and determination to undersell any other House west of New York city. To those who have not yet examined

THEIR STOCK OR PRICES, they would say, through their connection in New-York, and an almost exclusive business, they are enabled to keep a resident buyer of great experience in New York and Boston markets, and many other goods are imported direct for their own trade in the original packages, thus securing many

New and Choice Styles of Goods, that cannot be found at any other establishment here. Their arrangements are so complete that they can and pledge themselves that they will sell every piece and style of goods as low as they can be bought in the most celebrated cheap stores in New York or Boston. Every piece and style of goods in this establishment, being bought of first hands or at auction, or imported direct, and consequently from 25 to 30 PER CENT. LESS than Western Merchants pay for them—in fact we sell many styles of goods for less than western merchants pay for them in New York or Boston. Every article will be marked at the very lowest price, and will be guaranteed less in every instance than a similar article can be bought elsewhere.

We annex the following list of prices—which we think can hardly fail to convince any purchaser that this is not one of the humbug pretensions of the day:

Blanching shirts for 6d, usual price	10 to 12
Unbleached do	6 to 8
Yard wide sheeting, good, for 4	8 to 10
Yard wide bleached, "	12 to 15
Stout Calicoes, "	8 to 10

Heavy Satinets for 25, "	37 to 60
Good Flannels, "	30 to 40
All wool twilled flannel, "	40 to 60
Handsome ginghams, "	18 to 25
Good muslin de laines, "	20 to 25
Heavy Alpacaes, "	25 to 30
High Lustre Alpacaes, "	37 to 60
Fine French Merinoes, "	1,25 to 1,50
Good Broadcloth, "	2,50 to 4,00
Heavy Blankets, "	2,50 to 4,00
Linon Table Covers, "	32 to 75
Colored Table Covers, "	66, 100 to 1,25
Good heavy Shawls, "	1,00, 2,00 to 3,00
Plaid Long Shawls, "	2,00, 5,00 to 8,00
Broche Shawls, "	3,00, 6,00 to 9,00

Our Stock of Shawls is so large and well assorted, that ours might well be called the SHAWL STORE. We have every style, from the common De Laine at 50 cts, to the elegant Cashmere or Clasp, at $50. We shall receive weekly from our house in N. York.

All the New and Elegant Styles of Goods as they may arrive from Europe. We have also an immense assortment of Ribbons, Kid Gloves, Laces, Cambric, Hdkfs, and Lace Caps and Collars, which will be sold at an immense sacrifice.

LIFE ASSURANCE.

Life Insurance Company, HARTFORD, Conn.—ANNUITY FUND, $150,000.
This well known and long established Company, having organized a new department for LIFE INSURANCE, with an entirely distinct capital, exclusively pledged with its reserved accumulations, for the payment of losses upon Life Insurance only, and in no event liable for the other debts, contracts, or engagements of the Company, is now prepared to issue Policies on Lives, at rates materially reduced from those charged by the Mutual Companies. The leading idea of the system adopted by this Company, is, to ascertain precisely what it is worth to insure a given amount upon a life for a certain time, and to charge precisely that sum, and no more; it is attended with none of those vexatious contingencies which are inseparable from the mutual system—it has nothing to do with scrip dividends or bonuses, the declaration of which upon true and equitable principles, is attended with so much difficulty and perplexity—it is perfectly simple, as well as uniform and equal in all its operations.

The promptness, fairness and liberality which have marked all the dealings of this Company, for a period of thirty years, and the well known character of its officers and directors, afford the surest guaranty that its affairs will be so managed as to afford to the assured that ultimate safety and security which is of first importance in Life Assurance.

Policies will be granted payable after death, or upon the party's arriving at a specified age, at his option; in either case, free from the claims of creditors. The usual extra risks will be assumed by this Company at reasonable rates.

Pamphlets containing Rates of Premium, and information in relation to the plan of operations, and the policy of the company to effect insurance, may be obtained at the Agency of this Company.
